SELANGOR AVIATION SHOW RETURNS FOR THE SECOND YEAR

SAS2022 is back to showcase the latest of business aviation and general aviation

PETALING JAYA 21 JUNE 2022 – Invest Selangor Berhad with its dedicated aerospace division Selangor Darul Ehsan Aerospace Industry Coordination Office, S-DAICO, launches the Selangor Aviation Show (SAS2022). The Selangor Aviation Show is back for the second edition from 8th September until 10th September 2022 at Skypark Regional Aviation Centre or Skypark RAC Subang.

SAS2022 is dedicated to providing an invaluable opportunity for high-level networking and market penetration prospects with industry players from a range of sectors including commercials, the business aviation, general aviation and helicopters sub-sectors of the aviation industry in Malaysia and potentially in the region.

This year with a target of RM700 million potential transaction value, SAS2022 returns bigger with more business and investment opportunities in both local and international stages targeting to draw at least 8,000 visitors with at least 70 booths from local and international companies. SAS2022 anticipates around 30 static displays of aircraft and helicopters, including luxury private jets, on the tarmac areas within the Skypark RAC area.

According to Dato' Hasan Azhari, CEO of Invest Selangor, "Several activities are planned to ensure the event will benefit all stakeholders. Apart from the exposition and static displays, there will also be business networking sessions for the participating exhibitors with potential trade visitors and partners, product presentation sessions, seminars as well as training and career path sessions with the aviation tertiary students. Networking reception are also planned to maximise the exhibitor's participation which also include a session with potential business aviation clientele or charter flight passengers."

According to Dato' Teng Chang Khim, Exco Industry and Trade, "As The One and Only Business Aviation Show in the Region", SAS2022 will offer a regional perspective of the industry and will be participated by global industry players. This year, SAS2022 confirms the participation from Sapura Aero, Destini Avia Technique, Epic Aero, DJI Academy, Superb Access, BCS Aviation, Bibus Metals, Sirim and International Aero Training Academy. We are talking to many more OEMs and we hope to have many more this year, such as Dassault Aviation with the Falcon Business jet and others."

Aviation related associations will also participate and educate the visitors on their areas of expertise through planned technical and industry talk sessions and forums during the 3 days event. AsBAA (Malaysian Chapter) will be overseeing the Safety Day program onsite whereas WiAA is looking at aviation career talks for future aviators.
